PUBLIC LAW - ENERGY LAW

Sylvain Bergès has recognised expertise in the areas of public law and energy law, both as a litigator and an advisor. He is regularly involved in project financing and M&A transactions concerning the renewable energies sector in particular. He has advised significant industrial groups on complex public law issues (public procurement, public property law, structuring of public participation in sectors open to competition, etc.) and during the development phase of renewable energy production projects.

Most recently, Sylvain has notably advised RWE, BKW, Enedis, TIGF and Samfi-Invest.
